DATA SAY:
Questions regarding physical and cultural geography were embedded into 2012 course exams. Seventy-five percent of students answered these core items correctly.

SO WHAT:
A high percentage answering correctly shows that proposed changes in 2011 had a positive impact on student learning. We are happy with these changes but believe we can do better.

HOW WE CHANGED:
We are going to continue emphasizing core knowledge components of physical and culturally geography and include key embedded questions across sections in all of our major exams to reflect on our changing world.

WHAT WE GOT:
More students are doing better than ever on embedded questions, and several are interested in the discipline as a major.

2013 Follow Up- We now have 80% of students answering embedded questions correctly.
