

ASSESSMENT

Political Science - MA
Program-Level Student Learning Outcomes

- Students will be able to think critically and analytically.
- Students will be able to analyze and interpret quantitative and qualitative data used in political science.
- Students will be able to write effectively in the discipline and enhance one's research skills.
- Students will be able to evaluate theories used in the discipline of political science systematically and to critique them effectively.