

Dr. Joseph Sartorelli

Associate Professor of Philosophy, Arkansas State University

Degrees:

A.B., University of Chicago, 1973

B.Phil., Philosophy, Oxford University, 1976

D.Phil., Philosophy, Oxford University, 1984

M.S., Computer Science, Wright State University, 1987

Selected publications:

Review of Scepticism, Rules and Language, by G.P. Baker and P.M.S. Hacker. The Philosophical Review, Volume 100, Number 4.

“McGinn on Concept Scepticism and Kripke’s Sceptical Argument.” Analysis 51, Number 2.

“Spikes on Kripke.” Philosophy and Literature, Volume 18, Number 2.

Selected service and professional activities:

Faculty Senate, Senator and Vice-Chair

AAUP, Vice-President, ASU Chapter

Committee A on Academic Freedom and Tenure, ASU Chapter, Chair

University Budget Committee

Committee on the Ethical Use of Animals in Experimentation

Department Curriculum Committee

Philosophy Search Committee, Chair

Philosophy Club Advisor

Philosophy Scholarship Committee

Philosophy Advisor

Courses taught include:

Introduction to Philosophy

Computers, Ethics and Society

Aesthetics

Philosophy of Language

Minds, Machines and Meaning

Contemporary Philosophy