Home School Students and Concurrent Courses

Students who are home schooled may make application to Arkansas State University and enroll in courses to obtain concurrent credit by following the same procedures as public and private high school students. All requirements concerning grade point average (G.P.A.) and tests scores shall be the same as the requirements for public and private school students. Students will have to fill out the online application for Arkansas State University, which requires a $15 application fee. ACT records or other test scores, immunization records, and transcripts must be sent to A-State for acceptance consideration. Tuition will be the same for high school home school students taking concurrent classes as the tuition for other high school concurrent students. Home school students will need to have verification from a recognized home school association or a school district to confirm that the student is the equivalent of a high school student; the form below may be used for this purpose (or a copy of the document filed with the Arkansas Department of Education may be provided).
The student who is requesting admission to the A-State Concurrent Program is verified to be the equivalent of a high school student.
