Students will demonstrate depth in a concentration area to support their professional goals.

Students will demonstrate both verbal and written communication skills.

Students will develop advanced skills in critical thinking and analysis applied to solve relevant problems.