

Department of Communication Disorders
Arkansas State University - Jonesboro

UNIVERSITY PROGRAMS AND CLINICS

Direct service delivery in area of expertise

Mentoring and Clinical Supervision

Classroom Teaching and Research

Augmentative/alternative communication

LONG-TERM CARE

Family and medical staff consultations

Feeding and Swallowing issues

PRIVATE SCHOOLS

Screenings, diagnostic, prevention activities, treatment and management

Memory and cognition issues

REHABILITATION HOSPITALS

Augmentative/Alternative communication devices and systems, family and medical staff consultations, feeding/swallowing issues.

Traumatic brain injury

Speech-Language Pathology

HOSPITALS

Acute care

Swallowing Disorders

Neurologic Disorders

Augmentative/alternative communication devices and systems

Specialty practice

PRIVATE PRACTICE

Service delivery across the lifespan

Screenings, prevention activities, diagnostics, and treatment

Infant/Pre-school

EARLY INTERVENTION

Home Settings

Center-based Settings

Test Material Development

RESEARCH AGENCIES

Evidence-Based Treatment Development and Piloting

Clinicians and scientists are employed in the federal uniformed services

UNIFORMED SERVICES

Articulation

Assisted listening

Fluency/Stuttering

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Screenings, prevention activities, diagnostics, treatment, and management of speech, language, literacy, feeding/swallowing issues, hearing issues, teacher and parent consultations.

Screenings, prevention activities, diagnostics, and treatment of speech, language, hearing issues, developmental delay issues, parent and teacher consultation

For more information on careers for Speech-Language Pathologists, visit www.explorehealthcareers.org or <http://www.bls.gov/ooh/home.htm>.