Policies

Makeup Work:
If you miss an exam, you must contact the instructor within 12 hours of the exam start time to arrange a make up exam. There are no drop grades for exams.

There are no makeup opportunities for guest speakers and quizzes.

Writing Center and College of Business Writing Tutor:

The Writing Center is available to all students and our College of Business Writing Tutor, as an extension of the Writing Center, is available to business students. The Writing Center is available approximately 38 hours per week in the Learning Commons area of the Dean B. Ellis Library. The CoB Writing Tutor is available in the Business Building approximately 20 hours per week. Announcements will be made each semester for the specific hours for both and the specific location for the CoB Writing Tutor. Skype tutoring is offered by the Writing Center for those students not on campus.
Students can utilize the center by walking in, setting up an appointment in person or via phone at (870) 972-3451, scheduling weekly appointments with the same tutor, attending one of the Discipline Drop-In Hours in the Writing Center and across campus, attending one of the workshops, and joining one of the writing groups.

The Writing Tutors will:
- help students to understand and plan the writing project;
- talk with students about the content, organization, style, and/or mechanics of student’s work;
- work with students on integration of sources and documentation (APA, Chicago, MLA, Turabian, etc.);
- ensure that students are not engaging in academically dishonest writing and research practices;
- walk students through how to utilize the campus research databases;
- not only help students create better writing, but help students to become better writers;
- treat students and student work with respect.

The Writing Tutors will not:
- review student work without student present;
- write or edit student paper;
- tell student what to write;
- assign a grade to student work, even informally;
- discuss student or student work with anyone outside of the Writing Center without student permission.

For questions, comments, or suggestions, students can contact the Writing Program and Writing Center Director and W.A.C./W.I.D. Co-Coordinator, Dr. Kristi Murray Costello @ kcostello@astate.edu or the Writing Center Assistant Director and W.A.C./W.I.D. Co-Coordinator, Airek Beauchamp, at abeauachamp@astate.edu.

Students with Disabilities:
Students who require academic adjustments in the classroom or by way of the web due to a disability must first register with Arkansas State Disability Services. Following registration and within the first two weeks of class, please contact me to discuss appropriate academic accommodations, technology requirements, software and hardware specifics and requirements. Appropriate arrangements can be made to ensure equal access to this course.

Based on A-State Disability Services guide: http://www.astate.edu/a/disability/faculty-resources/.
Inclement Weather Policy:
All official announcements regarding inclement weather will be made only through official university communications. The official university website, AState.edu, is supplemented by the verified university social media accounts -- on Facebook (Facebook.com/ArkansasState) and Twitter (@ArkansasState). Email communication for emergency and weather alerts is provided to the official AState.edu issued faculty and staff or student accounts. Individuals who have signed up for text alerts will also receive notices of opening and closures.

During times of university closure or inclement weather, instruction may be continued through Arkansas State’s online capabilities including Blackboard and/or email to maintain academic continuity of the course. When such changes are made, it is incumbent upon both the faculty to communicate the change and for students to monitor their official Arkansas State student email account so that they can receive notifications.

Commuter students are encouraged to use good judgment in deciding whether to drive to campus during inclement weather. When the decision is made to not travel to campus under this policy, it is the responsibility of the student to immediately contact the professor to explain the circumstances and to determine the need to complete any missed assignments.

Students are responsible for all missed assignments during inclement weather within a time frame to be determined by the professor.

Attendance:

CLASS ATTENDANCE POLICY Students should attend every lecture, recitation and laboratory session of every course in which they are enrolled. Students who miss a class session should expect to make up missed work or receive a failing grade on missed work. It is the practice of Arkansas State University to allow students to participate in university sponsored academic or athletic events, even when those events cause them to be absent from class. Students participating in university sponsored academic or athletic events will not have those days counted against their available absences and will be given reasonable opportunities to make up missed assignments and exams. Students enrolled in freshman or sophomore level courses numbered 1000 or 2000 may during the spring and fall semester miss no more than twice the number of lectures, recitations, laboratory sessions, or other regularly scheduled class activities that would normally be scheduled during a week. Students who miss more than the maximum number of freshman or sophomore level classes may be assigned a grade of “F” for the course. Students who may be assigned a grade of “F” in a course because of excessive absences may withdraw from the course without penalty before the deadline for dropping an individual course. In determining whether excessive absences should result in a failing grade, consideration shall be given to the maturity and class standing of the student, the quality of academic work being accomplished by the student, and extenuating circumstances related to such absences. Students enrolled in junior or senior upper-level courses numbered 3000 or 4000 will not be assigned a grade of “F” solely for failing to attend classes. However, instructors shall set forth in their syllabi at the beginning of the semester their attendance requirements and expectations with regard to make-up policy for work missed, class participation and other factors that may influence course grades. In determining whether excessive absences should adversely affect a grade in an upper-level course, consideration shall be given to the maturity and class standing of the student, the quality of academic work being accomplished by the student, and extenuating circumstances related to such absences. Students must utilize their available absences for any cause which requires them to miss class including, but not being limited to, vacation, illness, emergency, or religious observances. Students who are aware that they will have absences during a term should ensure that they do not exceed the absences available.

EXCUSED ABSENCE FOR UNIVERSITY-SPONSORED EVENTS It is the practice of Arkansas State University to allow students to participate in university-sponsored events, even when those events cause them to be absent from class. Students participating in university sponsored events will be given reasonable opportunities to make up missed assignments and exams.

Academic Misconduct Policy:
Arkansas State University and the A-State College of Business enthusiastically promotes academic integrity and professional ethics among all members of the A-State academic community. Violations of this policy are considered as serious misconduct and may result in severe penalties.

A. PLAGIARISM
Plagiarism is the act of taking and/or using the ideas, work, and/or writings of another person as one’s own.

1. To avoid plagiarism give written credit and acknowledgment to the source of thoughts, ideas, and/or words, whether you have used direct quotation, paraphrasing, or just a reference to a general idea.
2. If you directly quote works written by someone else, enclose the quotation with quotation marks and provide an appropriate citation (e.g., footnote, endnote, bibliographical reference).
3. Research, as well as the complete written paper, must be the work of the person seeking academic credit for the course. (Papers, book reports, projects, and/or other class assignments)
4. Discipline: Faculty members may respond to cases of plagiarism in any of the following ways:
   a. Return the paper or other item for rewriting; the grade may be lowered.
   b. Give a failing grade on the paper or other item—“F” if a letter grade is used or zero if a numerical grade is used.
   c. Give the student who plagiarized a failing grade in the course.
   d. Recommend sanctions, including disciplinary expulsion from the university.

B. CHEATING
Cheating is an act of dishonesty with the intention of obtaining and/or using information in a fraudulent manner.
1. Observing and/or copying from another student's test paper, reports, computer files and/or other class assignments.
2. Giving or receiving assistance during an examination period. (This includes providing specific answers to subsequent examinees and/or dispensing or receiving information that would allow the student to have an unfair advantage in the examination over students who did not possess such information.)
3. Using class notes, outlines, and other unauthorized information during an examination.
4. Using, buying, selling, stealing, transporting, or soliciting, in part or in whole the contents of an examination or other assignment not authorized by the professor of the class.
5. Using for credit in one class a term paper, book report, project, or class assignment written for credit in another class without the knowledge and permission of the professor of the class.
6. Exchanging places with another person for the purpose of taking an examination or completing other assignments.
7. Discipline: Faculty members may respond to cases of cheating in any of the following ways:
   a. Allow the testing to progress without interruption, informing the offending student about the offense—and award a failing grade on the test—"F" if a letter grade is used or zero if a numerical grade is used.
   b. Seize the test of the offending student and give a failing grade on the paper.
   c. Give the offending student a failing grade in the course.
   d. Recommend sanctions, including disciplinary expulsion from the university.

Sanctions for Academic Misconduct
Sanctions for Academic Misconduct may be imposed by the faculty member or instructor discovering the Academic Misconduct except in the case of dismissal from a particular program which shall be made by the department chair or program director, or suspension or expulsion from the university, which shall be made by the dean. The following sanctions may be imposed for Academic Misconduct:
• A failing grade on the paper or project;
• Rewriting or repeat performance of course work;
• A failing grade for the class;
• Dismissal from the class;
• Dismissal from a particular program;
• Suspension or Expulsion from the university;
• Other appropriate sanctions as warranted by the specific acts of the student.
A student may not avoid academic sanctions by withdrawing from a class, a program, or the university.

Hello Students,

After discussions with many faculty, students, and business leaders in recent months, I am very pleased to share our Arkansas State University College of Business Honor Code. It is an essential part of the educational experience that we provide that each of our students understand their credibility, work ethic, and behavior reflect on their classmates, Arkansas State University, and their future. Each student enrolled in an Arkansas State University College of Business course accepts personal responsibility to uphold and defend academic integrity and to promote an atmosphere in which all individuals may flourish.

The Arkansas State University College of Business Honor Code is below:

As a student of Arkansas State University, I pledge that I will conduct myself with honor and integrity at all times. I will not lie, cheat or steal, nor will I accept the actions of those who do.

Integrity is a fundamental part of our culture and permeates what we do as a leading business school in this state and throughout the world. As we prepare our students for the professional rigors of decision-making and leadership and as you, our students, engage in these endeavors we will invest in one another to build trusted relationships and a shared reputation for integrity.

I am excited about our collective role in educating and preparing talented, thoughtful, and ethical business leaders in the years ahead.

Thank you,

Dr. Shane Hunt
Dean, A-State College of Business

Your Commitment

As a student of Arkansas State University, I pledge that I will conduct myself with honor and integrity at all times. I will not lie, cheat or steal, nor will I accept the actions of those who do.
