Banner 9 capacity planning — how many apps? Jul 13, 2017 1:56 PM
Kudos to Dan Sterling and Mark Tytler for helping me out with this.

Before, I had been concerned about the proliferation of SSB apps and that we might be faced with a microservice universe. Fortunately, the answer is NO.

The general consolidation plan is for these apps to exist:

- Student Registration
- Student API
- Student Self-Service
- Faculty Self-Service
- Employee Self-Service
- Finance Self-Service
- Banner 9 Administration
- Banner Online Help
- Application Navigator
- General Self-Service
- Extensibility
- Event Management
- Integration API

Personally, I expect there will be a few more but still, that's much easier to deal with than 20-40 Grails apps.

Extras mentioned elsewhere:
Communication Management

Banner 9 capacity planning — how many...

I wish that I could mark stuff as "helpful" on threads that I didn't start, because this definitely is.....!

Thank you very much, we've been trying to get a list like this for a very long time.

It was something that had been bugging me for a couple of months, especially as we looked past this round of Banner 9 go-lives in August.

We tried to get an Ellucian architect on the phone but have not had success going through channels. So, I did what desperate people do: 1) Put in a support ticket and 2) Send an email directly to someone who can find stuff out. Both methods were extremely informative, I'm happy to say.

Thank you for asking what many of us are wondering.

Thank you Stephen.

I too have been wondering when they might "stop the madness" and give us an end game for SSB will look like.
