Dear Preceptor,

A nursing administrator student's preceptor has a crucial role in preparing the student for a future in nursing administration. We are very grateful for your willingness to share your expertise and professional time with our graduate students.

The guidelines presented in this Preceptor Handbook are designed to provide you with supporting information for the course, NURS 6873 Practicum in Nursing Administration. The MSN-Nurse Administrator program consists of five courses (NURS 6762, NURS 6323, NURS 6353, HP 5113 with NURS 6873 as the final course for the program). This final course is a practicum course that provides the arena for the practical culmination of the other four courses.

Practicum hours focus on the areas associated with nursing administration in a variety of settings. A university/college and facility contract must also be secured and approved prior to the student beginning their Practicum experience. Your role as a preceptor is to guide the students as they learn the role of the nurse administrator. The student does not always have to be with you physically. You can identify meetings and experiences that may be beneficial to student learning and support your student's entry into the role of nurse administrator.

We cannot express our appreciation enough for the time our preceptors take to mentor and guide our students. This clinical practice is such a valuable experience for students because it provides them the opportunity to learn the role of the nurse administrator and apply what they have learned in coursework to prepare them for the future role.

Please let us know if you have any questions, concerns, or even ideas for program improvement. Nursing is a team effort and we value your contribution to the student's educational experience!

Sincerely,

Cindy B. Crum, Ed.D., M.Ed., MSN, RN

MSN Nurse Administrator Practicum

Guidelines for Academic Setting

Preceptor Role Definition: A nurse administrator in a nursing program who agrees to provide support and guidance for an MSN student completing a nurse administrator practicum. The preceptor must be an administrator with an MSN or higher (ex. PhD, DNP, MD, OD) degree with a minimum of 3 years' experience with 5 years' experience preferred.

Final grading of A-State course assignments will be completed by course faculty.

Preceptor Agreement: The Preceptor is asked to complete an A-State School of Nursing Preceptor Agreement and submit it to the A-State Graduate Clinical Coordinator.

PRECEPTOR EXPECTATIONS

After the preceptor agreement has been signed and the preceptor's curriculum vitae have been sent to the Clinical Coordinator, below are the expectations of the preceptor for the beginning, during, and end of the Practicum.

Preceptor Activities Prior to or at the Beginning of Practicum:

- Orient student to nursing administrator role and negotiate placement details
- Tour clinical facility and discuss clinical supervision protocols
- Share with student administrator needs
- Share helpful contacts within the facility
- Clarify information on key components of this practicum course:
 - Course syllabus, description and objectives with these topics in mind;
 - Decision-making in the provision of team coordination and accountability for health care delivery
 - Budgeting and finance
 - Staffing (scheduling, hiring, interviewing, firing, job performance appraisals)
 - Recruitment and retention
 - Team meetings/committees (preparing and conducting)
 - Quality Improvement measures
 - Legal and ethical issues
 - Course procedure
 - Course assignment due dates
 - Practicum feedback and evaluation tools

Preceptor Activities during the Practicum:

- Collaborate on planning and assessment of assignments
- Assist in selecting a topic for the student's change project.
- Communicate periodically with student on practicum progress and outcomes
- Notify faculty if the student is not progressing clinically or there is a breach in professionalism by the student
- Verify the student's activity log weekly

Preceptor Activities at the end of Practicum:

- Complete the Preceptor's Evaluation of Student based on course objectives (See Page 9)

Student Expectations for the Administrator Practicum Setting

Note: If you are currently in a nurse administrator role in the clinical setting of your practicum, it is important that you identify how the activities you are carrying out have objectives that clearly differentiated from your current administrative role.

Please contact the A-State course faculty for any questions or concerns. A-State course faculty will assign grades to assignments and consult administrator preceptor for any questions or concerns.

1. The student contacts Administrator Preceptor and sets up meeting to discuss clinical objectives and practicum expectations as well as course, content, and requirements per the syllabus and days/times of attendance in the clinical setting.
2. The student works with course faculty or clinical coordinator to ensure preceptor agreements are signed. The student will obtain information from the assigned preceptor and email all required clinical documents to the Clinical Coordinator at scoin@astate.edu. Clinical Coordinator will review documents and notify student if the clinical rotation is approved.
3. The student will collaborate with the preceptor to develop a schedule and will work together with the faculty preceptor to determine how practicum hours will be achieved. The student is responsible for entering all practicum hours in the student portfolio.
4. The student will adhere to the A-State Professionalism Policy for the course. The student will always conduct him or herself in a professional manner during the clinical preceptorship. Professional dress, including a white lab coat with the A-State School of Nursing patch and the A-State name badge, must always be worn.

As part of the practicum expectations students are to:

- Meet course/clinical objectives
- Document hours in the clinical log/portfolio
- Complete the Student Evaluation of Practicum Preceptor as well as the content and performance of the preceptorship
- Complete the Practicum Facility Evaluation

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Combine leadership concepts, skills, and decision

TITLE: NURS 6873(v) Practicum in Nursing Administration

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This capstone clinical course in nursing administration utilizes management and leadership skills to develop practical, successful, and innovative solutions for problems in health care. Students focus on synthesizing theories, models, techniques, and strategies to solve multifaceted problems in nursing administration.

Practicum hours focuses on nursing administration and healthcare administration.

Course Student Learning Outcomes (Course Objectives):

Upon successful completion of this course, the student will have been given the opportunity to:

1. Describe the scope of practice and responsibilities of the registered nurse, nurse executive and use professional communication, collaborative skills to deliver evidence-based, patient centered care
2. Demonstrate nurse administrator competencies
3. Combine leadership concepts, skills, and decision making in the provision of:
 - a. Team coordination
 - b. Accountability for health care delivery
 - c. Quality nursing care
4. Assess how health care is organized and financed
5. Appraise leadership, communication, team building, priority setting, and delegation skills when managing a group of patients
6. Synthesize professional standards of conduct

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS:

Clinical Experience

Objectives and clinical work must meet guidelines established by MSN faculty called student learning outcomes. The student is expected to have weekly learning activities that are to be shared with the preceptor and course faculty.

Dress Code adherence is as that stated in the Nursing Student Handbook. All students are required to dress professionally. A white lab coat will be worn which is freshly laundered and ironed. The ASU picture ID will be worn identifying the student as an ASU student.

Class Participation (Discussion)

Students are expected to prepare for class by reading literature relevant to the course topics. Each student is expected to provide thoughtful and informed responses through participation on the course Discussion Board, with faculty through online and other written communication.

Reflective Journal/Clinical Portfolio

Students will develop a reflective journal of clinical activities that speak to course outcomes. Students are to focus on strategies used with their chosen clinical site (nursing students, practicing nurses, or patients). The journal encompasses the entire clinical experience, but will be submitted throughout the semester for feedback/partial credit. Corrected journals are to be submitted in Blackboard each week by Monday at night, with the exception of the journal to be submitted in Week 7, which will be submitted no later than noon on Friday of Week 7. This process, including all clinical documentation is the clinical portfolio.

Students should keep a written log of clinical time (hours, minutes). Clinical time must be validated by preceptors within Medatrax; failure to validate clinical time will result in points deducted from clinical journal grade.

The Journal should be a written record of your clinical time and a reflection on your practice and moving toward an advanced educator role. Focus is on description of the activity, decision-making, environment, resources, collaboration, evidenced-based care, and measure/outcomes. The Journal should include your personal philosophy of teaching, learning, and evaluation.

The Reflective Journal can help graduate students develop higher-order cognitive skills and critical thinking. In addition to a summary of clinical activities and analysis of teaching/learning activities, guidelines for Reflective Journaling include (but not limited to):

1. Identify an experience, situation, or information in your clinical experience that you find confusing, difficult, challenging, or interesting.
2. What feelings, hunches, or questions are evoked? What is the meaning of the experience? What influenced the experience?
3. Do the feelings, hunches, or questions connect with the past or present? What are the implications? What is the significance?
4. Are there connections between what you are describing and what is indicated in the research and theory? What are some possible solutions? What approach or solution would you choose and why? What is the effectiveness of this approach?

Teaching Project and Evaluation:

The student will develop a teaching project approved by the course faculty. The intended target may be nursing students, practicing nurses, or patients. Specifics for this plan must be developed in conference with the course faculty. Develop a teaching plan that includes outcome criteria, lesson plans, teaching strategies, and evaluation methods as outlined in previous texts. Template example available on Blackboard.

Students are encouraged to branch out into a different media than one with which they are presently comfortable. (Try developing a continuing education program, a web-based presentation, a patient education program, etc)

Presentation

Implementation of the Teaching Project at the clinical site. The student will recording a Zoom presentation of the teaching project and submitting the link in Blackboard for the instructor to share with your classmates. Zoom is available in the Additional Tools area of Student Tools in Blackboard.

Preceptor Evaluations

Preceptor evaluations will be used to reflect student performance as an educator. The number of points awarded is 100 for this activity. The score will be determined by numeric and written feedback from preceptors and completed at the discretion of the faculty member for this course.

Constructive evaluation is a valuable tool utilized by the faculty as a method for quality control of the curriculum. Student evaluations are viewed by the faculty and administration as one method for maintaining high, consistent levels of quality education in the School of Nursing/. As a professional nursing student, evaluation requires maturity and objectivity. This evaluation tool is the student's opportunity to participate in the ongoing evaluation process. Please read each item carefully, then select the category that you feel correlates with your feelings about the statement.
