

A-STATE GLOBAL YOUTH ACADEMY

Session 1: June 5-23 or Session 2: July 10-28

Monday - Friday 1:30 - 4:45 p.m.

On the A-State Campus

Cost: $300 per session

A-State Global Youth Academy offers students, ages 14-18, intense activities with university professors, leaders in the community, and business professionals as well as classmates from around the world. A-State will be hosting students from Peru, Vietnam, Japan and more in a residential program that offers English classes in the mornings and program-specific courses in the afternoon. The program areas offered in the afternoon are available to local students. Each session concludes with an integrated presentation by all Global Youth Academy participants in Riceland Hall at the Fowler Center.

The Global Youth Academy is a three-week program. Each Academy will meet from 1:30 – 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday for three weeks. Students may choose one of three program areas:

Leadership & Management

Students will learn and develop communication and leadership skills taught in an interactive environment by an internationally recognized author and speaker.

Fine Arts

Includes visual art, theatre, choral music and stringed instruments. Students will participate in each of the four areas led by area professionals.

Digital Creative Media

Students will participate in hands-on digital media skills taught by university faculty and business professionals.
