College Grievance Committee (Faculty)

The College Grievance Committee (CGC) will include one representative from each Departmental Grievance Committee (normally the chair of that committee). This committee is a standing body representing all faculty in the college. Faculty selected will reflect the racial, ethnic, and gender diversity of the college. The CGC will consist of at least five tenured faculty.

Members serve two-year terms with a portion being replaced annually. The committee elects a chair each year. No faculty member may sit on a committee to hear a grievance (a) against him/herself; (b) he/she has filed, or (c) he/she may later review or act upon.
