Attached is an application requesting approval of a petition for temporary graduate faculty status for Mrs. Arianne Pait, Assistant Professor of Communication Disorders and Director of ASU Speech and Hearing Center. Mrs. Pait has been employed at ASU since 2002 as the Director of the Speech and Hearing Center. She holds a state license to practice and is nationally certified as a speech-language pathologist. In her capacity as Speech and Hearing Center director, she is responsible for the daily operation of that facility in which graduate (and some undergraduate) students provide diagnostic and treatment services to clients with speech/language/hearing disorders. These services are provided under the direct supervision of ASU Communication Disorders faculty members. Mrs. Pait provides administrative oversight for all aspects of clinical operation and serves as the instructor of record for all clinical practicum courses like CD 5751 – Introduction to Clinical Practicum. Mrs. Pait is an outstanding member of the Communication Disorders faculty and an exceptionally talented director of the clinic. The talent and experience she has accumulated over the years have equipped her to be uniquely successful in guiding students' preparation through practicum experiences.

Mrs. Pait's professional experience in administering a fully functioning clinical facility and her competence as an educator (both didactically and in the classroom) should provide evidence that she is highly qualified to complete the duties and responsibilities associated with temporary graduate faculty status. As a result, I am strongly supporting her application for temporary graduate faculty status.

Sincerely,

Richard A. Neeley, Ph.D.
Professor and Chair
Communication Disorders Department
