

Dr. Joseph Sartorelli

Professor of Philosophy, Arkansas State University

Degrees:

A.B., University of Chicago

B.Phil., Philosophy, Oxford University

D.Phil., Philosophy, Oxford University

M.S., Computer Science, Wright State University

Selected publications:

Biological Process, Essential Origin, and Identity. Philosophical Studies, Volume 173, Issue 6.

The Pretense Theory and Exclusionary Arguments: A Response to Manning. Journal of Aesthetics and Art Criticism 73, Issue 2.

Spikes on Kripke. Philosophy and Literature, Volume 18, Number 2.

McGinn on Concept Scepticism and Kripke's Sceptical Argument. Analysis 51, Issue 2.

Review of Scepticism, Rules and Language, by G.P. Baker and P.M.S. Hacker. The Philosophical Review, Volume 100, Number 4.

Selected service and professional activities past and present:

Faculty Senate, Senator and Vice-Chair

AAUP, Vice-President, ASU Chapter

Committee A on Academic Freedom and Tenure, ASU Chapter, Chair

University Budget Committee

Committee on the Ethical Use of Animals in Experimentation

Department Promotion, Retention and Tenure Committee

Department Curriculum Committee

Library Liaison

Rubric Revision Committee

Philosophy Committee

Philosophy Search Committee, Chair

Honors Thesis Committee

Philosophy Club Advisor

Philosophy Scholarship Committee

Philosophy Outstanding Graduate Committee

Philosophy Advisor

Courses taught include:

Introduction to Philosophy

Computers, Ethics and Society

Aesthetics

Philosophy of Language

Minds, Machines and Meaning

Contemporary Philosophy