

Linda Brady

Instructor of Sociology

Education:

M. A., Sociology, Arkansas State University, Jonesboro, AR August, 2007

B. S., Business Administration, Arkansas State University, Jonesboro, AR
December, 2003

ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE:

Teaching Internship, Department of Criminology, Sociology & Geography,
Arkansas State University-Jonesboro January - May 2007

Instructor of Sociology and Criminology, Department of Criminology, Sociology,
& Geography, Arkansas State University- Jonesboro Dec. 2007- Present

Instructor of Sociology, Continuing Education and Community Outreach,
Arkansas State University (Paragould campus; Distance Learning) 2008 – 2011

Instructor of Sociology/Course Writer, Academic Partnership and A-State Online,
Arkansas State University, 2011-Present

TEACHING:

COURSES TAUGHT:

Making Connections (First Year Experience)

Principles of Sociology

Criminology

Classical Social Theory

Social Problems

Sociology of Religion

Rural Sociology

Sociology of Marriage and Family

Urban Sociology

Sociology of Disasters

RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Prepared and taught face to face and web-assisted courses
- Prepared and taught online (web) courses
- Prepared and taught compressed video classes delivered simultaneously to all ASU Degree Center locations and the Jonesboro campus
- Prepared syllabi & lectures
- Delivered lectures and facilitated classroom discussions and interaction
- Prepared & graded exams, assignments, and extra-credit projects
- Facilitated & guided students in the utilization of critical thinking skills
- Advised & referred students
- Maintained office hours for student advisement
- Supervised, graded and submitted student's work for assessment for the Higher Learning Commission Assessment

SERVICE:

Criminology, Sociology & Geography Dept., Arkansas State University- Jonesboro
Budget Committee (Chair) Jan. 2011 – 2013

Academic Advisor for Sociology and Criminology undergraduate majors Fall 2009
– 2012

Search Committee 2011

Recruiting – Transfer Preview day, Senior Preview Day 2017

AWARDS:

"Most highly recommended instructor of General Education Course", Arkansas
State University 2010-2011 academic year

NSCS Distinguished Member 2013-2014 academic year